Each year G. C. Kidner, East Paint Street, takes just pride in showing his Regal Lilies, and this year he has the largest number he has ever grown and they are at their best.

G. C. has 43 stalks of the lilies and I counted 17 flowers and buds on a single stalk.

The Regals are those wonderful big white blossoms with the golden throat, and a touch of maroon on the outside of the big blossoms.

The Regals in G. C.'s garden are a delight to all flower lovers.

Glenn McCoy, residing on the State Road, and one of the youngest breeders of high class corn in Fayette County, probably holds first place with reference to "laying by" corn.

Glenn planted a 30 acre field very early in May. Then the rains came. But the corn also came and thrived. Glenn ran the rotary hoe over it, and then proceeded to cultivate it three times.

The corn was "laid by" or given its final plowing Saturday of last week, is waist high or better, and growing rapidly.

"How about playing William Tell?"

This question was asked by Captain Jess Ellis while we were standing in the alley at the City Building and Monroe George, well known local colored man, came walking up the alley with his characteristic grin.

Although he protested good naturedly, "Mon" permitted Captain Ellis to place a wooden block about two inches square, on his head. "Mon" stood bravely against the City Building wall until Captain Ellis reached for his pistol as if he were going to shoot the block of wood off in true William Tell style then "Mon's" nerve failed him, and he lost no time getting out from under the wooden "apple" and hurrying down the alley.

"We have tried the William Tell stunt other times, but Mon always fades away before I have a chance to shoot" said Captain Ellis laughing.

SHUTTLE-BOMBINGS
OMINOUS FOR AXIS
Concentrated Allied Power
May Blast Invasion Path

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
WASHINGTON, June 26.—(AP)—There are ominous portents for the Axis in the British experiment in round-trip shuttle bombing flights between England and North Africa.

It raises a question whether the whole weight of Allied air power in England and Africa, may suddenly be concentrated to blast invasion bridgeheads through the western or southern walls of the Axis European fortress when the moment comes.

That possibility must double the strain under which the Axis high command is laboring in deploying its defensive forces to guard three fronts simultaneously. It cannot hope to match the awe-inspiring air power that could be thus massed virtually overnight.

What happened to Pantelleria well could prove a mild forerunner of what might happen to any selected continental invasion bridgehead.

East Coast Disaster

WASHINGTON, June 26.—(AP)—Recent loss of the small submarine R-12 and part of her crew during training operations has been announced by the navy. The statement, giving no details, attributed the loss "probably" to accident and not to enemy action.

How many of the normal complement of 28 were lost, the navy did not say, but it attributed the indications of accidents to "survivors."

The scene of the sinking was not given beyond the statement that it was off the east coast.

MEAT SHORTAGE

Market Centers Hit

CHICAGO, June 26.—(AP)—Hundreds of the nation's meat markets, including one-half of the approximately 6,000 in Chicago, world's livestock center, may be forced to close within the next 10 days because of the beef shortage, a spokesman for the retail dealers predicted today.

John A. Kotal, executive secretary of the National Association of Retail Meat Dealers, said the beef shortage, threatening requirements to the armed forces, resulted from Office of Price Administration regulations.

Conditions in New York and Seattle, Wash., he said, were "very bad," while Cincinnati and Cleveland were faced with a situation similar to Chicago. Kotal's statement came as beef supplies throughout the country dwindled toward the vanishing point and followed a suggestion by the American Meat Institute to War Stabilization Director James F. Byrnes that the entire meat problem be placed before the war meat board for solution.

Kotal said the beef shortage, becoming acute within the last two weeks, was the stopping point for hundreds of retailers whose business, he said, has been restricted by price regulations and curtailment of meat supplies for six months. In Chicago, where at one time there were more than 6,500 shops, about 900 have closed within that period, he said.

Kotal attributed the beef shortage to the OPA price ceiling policy of cutting the margin of profit to the point of freezing out cattle feeders for a subsequent loss of thousands of pounds of meat as lean, stringy beef goes to slaughterhouses. This practice, which he said reduced potential beef supplies 20 percent, plus the requirements for the armed forces is forcing the closing of butcher shops, Kotal declared.

In Cleveland, George Bubel, secretary of the City Meat Dealers Association, expressed fear of a meat shortage "for the next month or possibly longer." He said the 650 association member dealers have threatened to close but withheld action pending a meeting in about 10 days. In Cincinnati meat supplies in the city's estimated 1,000 shops dwindled slowly as 15 slaughtering plants discontinued operations.

German Attacks in Sevsk
Area Repulsed

LONDON, June 26.—(AP)—Attacking Russian troops broke into Finnish trenches on the northern Karelian front last night and wiped out about a company of the enemy in savage bayonet and grenade fighting, the Soviet noon communique said today.

Two German snobs, a reconnoitering attempt in the Sevsk area southwest of Orel and south of Balakleya where they attempted to cross the Donets River, were beaten off with enemy losses, the war bulletin said.

Russian artillery action also was reported near Sevsk where big Soviet guns were said to have started fires at two enemy strong points.

Heavy losses were suffered by the Germans in their attempted crossing of the Donets south of Balakleya and they were forced to retreat behind a smoke screen from concentrated Russian fire, said the bulletin.

President's Veto of Labor
Bill Brings Criticism
From Own Party

WASHINGTON, June 26.—(AP)—The whirlwind enactment of the anti-strike bill over President Roosevelt's veto today prompted Republican assertions that there would be no fourth term and counter contentions that the action should not be considered a reflection on the executive.

Elated at the result of the Senate and House votes overriding the veto, Senator Wherry (R-Nebr.) told reporters:

"This is the first concrete evidence that there will be no fourth term."

The president's veto of the measure also provoked sharp criticism from members of his own party, with Senator Byrd (D-Va.) asserting that the action was laden with politics.

"The veto was not the act of Franklin Roosevelt, commander in chief of the army and navy in time of a desperate war," Byrd declared. "It was the act of Franklin Roosevelt, candidate for re-election to a fourth term as president of the United States."

On the other hand, Senator Pepper (D-Fla.), who voted to override the veto in the Senate, said he thought Congress' action expressed only a bi-partisan determination to prevent further strikes in war industries such as the coal walkouts.

AXIS OPPOSITION GROWS

Peoples of Germany and Italy Getting Panicky
Under Terrific Assault

By ROGER GREENE
(By the Associated Press)

British sky fleets heaped new devastation on the heart of the Ruhr industrial valley before dawn today, blasting the steel cities of Bochum and Gelsenkirchen, and the Germans, beginning to wail, launched an embittered "hate campaign" to whip up morale on the Nazi home front.

Great fires were left raging in both cities, the British air ministry announced, although heavy clouds obscured an accurate check of the damage. Thirty RAF bombers were listed as missing.

Dispatches from Bern, Switzerland, said between 4,000,000 and 5,000,000 persons had already fled the bomb-torn Ruhr as the Allied aerial offensive, striking by day and night, roared through its seventh consecutive night.

Italy Battered Too

In the Mediterranean, the assault on Italy's anti-invasion outposts increased in violence, with the largest force of U. S. Flying Fortresses ever sent out in that theater spilling their bombs on Messina, Sicily, while RAF Wellingtons hammered the Axis air base at Olbia, Sardinia.

With their deadly fire power, the Fortresses destroyed 20 enemy aircraft, it was announced.

Sardinia came in for a heavy attack by the RAF's Wellingtons which selected Olbia, the port and air base in the northern part of the island, for their Thursday night target, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's headquarters announced.

Docks and freight yards at both places were carpeted with mushrooming bomb bursts, the communique said.

Photographs taken from the Fortresses showed two strikes and two damaging misses on a 400-foot merchant vessel in the harbor, one hit on the foredeck of a 500-foot ship and hits among a large number of buildings, warehouses, railroad tracks and station facilities," said an official account of the raid on Messina.

"Reconnaissance pictures taken after the raid showed a large fire burning in the railway station."

Ax fighters braved even their own flak in efforts to fight a way through the compact Fortress formations, and one of the bomber flights was followed by the enemy to within sight of the African shore.

Only Three Missing

But only three Allied planes were listed as missing after all operations yesterday and Thursday night.

Twenty enemy aircraft were reported destroyed during the daylight operations and one the preceding night. Three Allied planes were listed as missing.

On Europe's northern ramparts, American heavy bombers were officially credited with destroying nearly 100 enemy fighters in their last two engagements over the Reich against a loss of 37 U. S. planes. Twenty were lost in Tuesday's smash at Huls in the Ruhr, site of important synthetic rubber works, and 17 in yesterday.

AMERICANS CALLED VANDALS
BY NAZI PROPAGANDA BOSS
TO AROUSE HATE OF GERMANS

LONDON, June 26.—(AP)—In his horror and hate campaign designed to stir German morale dented by continued heavy Allied aerial attacks, Dr. Paul Joseph Goebbels, Germany's propaganda minister, lashed out today to call Americans cultural vandals and military barbarians.

Speaking at Munich, at the opening of the seventh German art exhibition, he said "British and American terror planes were destroying in a short hour, cultural possessions which the centuries have built" and to which the United States and Britain "made very slight contribution."

Of the Americans Goebbels said, "Towns like Nuernberg and Munich or Florence and Venice contain more of the eternal expression of Occidental culture than the whole of the North American continent."

"The Americans destroy towns of the European continent with their cultural institutions of which there are no equals in Chicago or San Francisco. What they cannot buy of European art and culture shall become victim of their terror bombers."

"Humanity should blush in shame that, say, a 20-year-old American, Canadian or Australian terror flier can and is allowed to destroy a picture by Duerer or Titian."

The German propaganda line consistently has been the assertion that cultural objects, hospitals and schools were bombed by the Allied fliers, without mention of the military targets caught under RAF saturation raids and wiped out by precision bombing of the American Air Forces.

Grain Prices Stage Brisk Upturn
On Rumors Ceiling May Be Raised

By WILLIAM FERRIS
CHICAGO, June 26.—(AP)—Grains staged a brisk upturn in the closing sessions this week on rumors that the ceiling price of corn would be raised following exhaustion of stocks secured by the War Food Administration's requisitioning of corn held in commercial elevators.

Basis for the rumors, grain men asserted, was the fact that corn stocks in elevators were comparatively small, and the amount of grain secured by requisitioning could keep refiners going no longer than about two weeks. After that, the problem of obtaining supplies would again be acute.

Loans on corn crops from 1938-42 have been called, but it was

COUNTY'S WHEAT YIELD PROSPECT THIRD OF NORMAL

WHEAT HARVEST IS UNDER WAY, OUTLOOK DARK

Scab and Hot Sun Change Entire Wheat Outlook In Ten Days

Wheat harvest is now under way in Fayette County, the harvest being brought about a week early by reason of the intense heat during the past 10 days, and revised estimates of the yield in Fayette County place it around one-third of a normal crop.

As farmers are getting into their wheat and examining it closer, a very dark picture is being painted regarding the crop, due to the winter kill and blight. In a great many instances the blight, or scab, is so much worse than at first believed, that some fields may not even be threshed after it is cut, reports state.

One farmer near this city expressed the belief that the wheat being cut would not pay for the shocking and other farmers declare fully half of their wheat, which had already been greatly reduced by the winter kill, had been ruined by scab.

The hot sun during the abnormal heat of the past 10 days, has almost cooked some of the wheat and has added to the destruction by scab, many farmers believe.

Grain dealers in touch with the situation in Fayette County are now placing the wheat yield at about one-third of a normal crop.

As hundreds of farmers have government insurance on their wheat, their loss will not be anything like it would have

SCAB CAUSE OF WHEAT DAMAGE

Second Appearance of the Disease Here in Three Years

A great deal of wheat in this part of Ohio is suffering heavy damage due to "scab" and it is the second appearance of this blight in three years.

Blasted heads are the chief indication of presence of the disease, and in some fields the number of worthless heads is surprisingly large.

Damage runs all the way from one tenth to one third of the heads, according to reports reaching County Agent W. W. Montgomery.

Three years ago there was a great deal of damage due to the scab, but not as extensive as it is this year.

The disease is expected to reduce the yield in Fayette County by many thousands of bushels.

Businessmen Help On Farms

During June, to date, Kenneth Craig, emergency labor assistant for Fayette County, reports that a total of 49 placements of farm workers have been made.

This includes permanent year around hired hands, men and boys and businessmen.

A complete office personnel for the handling of the farm labor situation here, both permanent and seasonal, has been set up in the office of the county agent, W. W. Montgomery, 723 Delaware Street, telephone 2558.

Those in charge of the work are: Kenneth Craig, emergency labor assistant, and Janice Wilson, clerk.

Business men are responding to the needs of the farm labor demands. Farmers and businessmen report that the finest spirit of cooperation exists where the business men go out to work on farms. Farmers are not expecting businessmen to work beyond the point of physical danger.

All applications for farm work, both farmers wanting help and those people wanting to do farm work, should make their application at the Farm Labor Recruiting place with Craig or Miss Wilson at the county agent's office. Demands for labor for the wheat harvest during the next two weeks is expected to be heavy.

Stockyards Are Empty But Feed Lots Crowded With Shortage Acute

HERE ARE the Union stockyards in Chicago which normally hold thousands of cattle waiting to be slaughtered for food. Only a few steers are in the pens which run almost as far as the eye can see. Packers predict a near-famine of meat shortly. (International)

Reason for Paradoxical Situation Is That Farmers Are Withholding Cattle Because Packers Cut Prices; Armed Forces and Civilians Face Meat Shortage

CHICAGO, June 26—(P)—Hundreds of cattle pens, yawning and silent, surrounded "Packingtown" at the Union Stockyards today, where normally they bulged with lowing steers and mooing calves.

A beef famine threatened the armed forces and civilian supplies dwindled swiftly toward the vanishing point.

At the same time, country feed lots and ranges were crowded with sleek, fat cattle and steers ready for market.

These conditions have prevailed for two weeks, livestock dealers said. So serious has the situation become that the American meat institute, which represents major units in the packing trade, telegraphed War Stabilization Director James F. Byrnes urging that the entire meat problem be turned over to the War Meat Board for solution.

The reason for the present paradoxical situation, livestock experts said, was that farmers were withholding cattle from market because packing house cattle buyers have lowered their offering prices. The producers were holding out for higher prices than the current level, but buyers resisted this trend, contending the packers already were losing money on beef operations. The packers claimed there was

HAIGLER SELLS EIGHT HEIFERS TO THE FISHERS

Prominent Breeder Now Has 250 Head of Pure Bred Herefords

From his large herd of 250 pure bred Hereford cattle, on his farms in Paint Township, Charles E. Haigler, one of the largest breeders of this kind of cattle in Ohio, has just sold eight heifers to the E. W. Fisher Stock Farms at Romeo, Mich.

The Fisher Herefords are known throughout the country and his herd is headed by T. Royal Rupert, a bull for which $10,100 was paid.

The eight heifers were chosen from the Haigler herd Thursday by the Fisher herdsmen, and will be shipped to the famous farms at Romeo, Mich., as soon as the usual tests are completed.

For a number of years Haigler has been building up his herd with some unusually fine animals, until his herd is recognized as one of outstanding excellence.

He has approximately 100 cows in his herd, and has shipped choice animals to many states during recent years.

Part of his herd is on his farm located on the State Road, a short distance from the Prairie Road crossing, and others on his farm near Yatesville.

A friend of mine who covers much of southern Ohio and a pretty good part of the corn belt in his work as a crop loan agent for Uncle Sam, makes this suggestion. "You'd be surprised at how many chickens you pass in a day that have been killed by automobiles on the highway," he said "and then I see this day after day," he added.

He has made a good suggestion and one that is practical on most farms. As simple a thing as a 30 inch poultry fence put above the fence along the road will solve this problem on most farms, and it won't take very many chickens to pay for it.

Many men solve this problem by having the chickens back a little from the farmstead so that they get the habit of grazing away from the road. Of course it won't be long until a lot of laying flocks will be housed for the fall and winter. We have about 200 Hanson White Leghorns that will

Meat Price Rollbacks Blamed For Slow Market

The rollback of meat prices and the uncertainty of the terms of subsidy payments to packers are held largely to blame for the slow-down in the country's livestock markets by Frank DeWitt, veteran stock buyer and market analyst here.

In the following article, in which the opinions expressed are the writer's own and do not necessarily reflect the views of this newspaper, DeWitt points out that the hog market has held around $14 and cattle sales have been fairly steady in spite of the "terrible muddle" in the livestock business.

By FRANK DEWITT
Packers and commission dealers are watching with interest the affect on business at the nation's major livestock markets, following disclosure by the government of details of subsidy payment accompanying the scheduled rollback in retail prices.

The recent slow-down in activity at the stock yards here and in other major centers has been due to the uncertainty of the terms of the subsidy payments to packers, to compensate them for the roll-back which seeks to cut consumers' prices 10 percent. The new retail prices become effective at once. It is stated in trade circles that the price rollback may cause a greater scarcity of beef in the regular commercial channels than now exists.

The hog market has held close to the $14 mark. Bulges above that price are hard to maintain. Very few hogs in any market have cashed below $13.75, the minimum price set by the government.

The cattle market continues to hold firm with choice, fed steers ruling steady to strong. Cows have been very scarce and a firm market is noted on bulls, while vealers are steady.

The livestock industry, both on hoof and processed, is in a terrible muddle.

The agricultural history of the world teems with instances of

SPRING PIG CROP IS RECORD-BREAKER

Another Increase Expected for Next Fall

WASHINGTON, June 26—(P)—The agriculture department estimated today the 1943 spring pig crop totaled 74,050,000 head, or 15 per cent more than the record crop of 1931 and 22 per cent more than last year.

The department said also that reports from farmers on farrowing plans indicated a 1943 fall pig crop of about 53,000,000 head, or an increase of about 9,000,000 or 21 per cent over the 1942 fall crop.

If borne out, the combined spring and fall crops would give a total 1943 production of about 127,000,000 head compared with 105,000,000 last year and a ten-year average of 73,148,000.

Axis Chiefs Still Worrying
About What Sort of Attack
Allies Will Make on Them

(While DeWitt MacKenzie is on vacation, this daily column is being written by Max Hill, former chief of the Associated Press Bureau in Tokyo)

BY MAX HILL

The Axis still is worrying—and guessing—about what sort of an attack the Allies intend to launch against Germany or Italy this summer in Europe.

Unidentified but evidently competent observers in Switzerland told Thomas F. Hawkins of the Associated Press that in their opinion the constant and devastating air attacks on Germany might well be the answer.

Germany herself is the "second front"—not some distant coastal point, from which it would take months and thousands of lives to actually penetrate to the Nazi homeland.

The last war finally was decided by the crushing weight of American production. We are less than a month away from the time it took us to break Germany in 1918, and it doesn't appear such a collapse is likely again in the immediate future.

But our output now dwarfs that of the previous war in every respect, and from London last night came the encouraging news that production of munitions in Great Britain for the first three months of 1943 was 40 per cent over the same period in 1942.

Axis production, on the other hand, is bound to be on the down-grade because of the tons of bombs dropped on her vitally essential factories and transportation lines. It is no wonder Germany must husband her remaining strength.

Our fliers have returned from their raids over the Ruhr with stories of the damage done, but the best evidence that Germany is being hurt—and hurt badly—comes from the Axis radio itself, and from the neutral capitals of Bern and Stockholm.

Dispatches from Swiss correspondents in Germany disclosed that the entire Ruhr valley now is virtually a military zone, with authorities constantly more concerned over the effects of the incessant bombing. This is not only because of what it does to production. Civilian morale is bound to drop under such a pounding, and even Hitler won't be able to maintain a solid home front unless the Nazis find some better answer to the attacks than they have thus far.

It has been some time since Goering promised the Germans an invincible defense against the axis was doing plenty of tub-thumping over victories in the Mediterranean.

It is quite possible, likely is a better word—that this is only the beginning, and that attacks in the future will be even greater. Broadcasts from London to the conquered peoples of France, Belgium and Holland have urged them to move away from potential targets, such as factories which produce war materials.

These broadcasts have told the Germans as well as their helpless slaves that this is only the start. Perhaps that is the reason the Germans finally have begun to admit the great damage and terror of their people. They must prepare them for what is to come.

GRAIN PRICES RISE ON RUMORS CEILING ON CORN TO BE RAISED

not believed by traders that this would bring a great amount of grain into terminal markets. Traders reasoned that farmers would redeem their loans and take possession of the grain, holding it either for their own use on farms or for higher prices.

The basic problem, grain men asserted, is to get corn off farms and into terminals—and one way in which this probably can be accomplished, they reasoned, was an advance in ceilings. Hence, traders were receptive to unconfirmed reports such action was being considered.

It was admitted, however, that

BOSSY EXTENDS FOOD SUPPLIES ON LARGE SCALE

Dairy Products Form Very Important Part of Human Food

Dairying is one of the foremost industries in Fayette County and a tremendous amount of vital food to feed the civilian population and provide food for the armed forces of America and her Allies is furnished by the cows of the county.

The National Council of Farmer Cooperatives has issued a statement in which it declares that the dairy cow should have first priority on livestock feed supplies.

"Dairy cows make the most efficient utilization of feeds given them," states E. M. Harmon, director of Public Relations of the National Dairy Council. "They return much more human food per pound of grain fed than any other kind of livestock. Furthermore they utilize pasture and roughages very effectively, converting feeds which it would be impossible for humans to use otherwise into the best of protective foods. Without livestock and particularly dairy cattle, most of the roughage and pasture would be wasted. It is essential to the food economy of the nation that roughages be utilized in the production of human foods."

continued Harmon. "Where combined with reasonable amounts of grain, the dairy cow returns far more human food for the same amount of grain and roughage than any other type of livestock."

Studies by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, indicate that on an average more than 72 pounds of digestible protein and 712,000 calories of energy per acre of feed are provided when that feed is fed through dairy cows. Hogs rank next with 23 pounds of protein and 673,000 calories of energy per acre of feed.

Other types of livestock return even less. The serious protein shortage which threatens the country points definitely to the soundness of the position taken by the National Council of Farmer Cooperatives.

any boost in corn maximums would encounter determined opposition from anti-inflation forces and an alternate proposal appeared to be a subsidy to farmers who hold corn. The ceiling would remain the same, but farmers would be granted additional payments when they sold their grain.

Any such subsidy plan unquestionably would meet a battle from the farm bloc, which is against subsidies. Traders watched closely congressional debate on proposals to prohibit extension of subsidies to additional agricultural commodities.

These broadcasts have told the Germans as well as their helpless slaves that this is only the start. Perhaps that is the reason the Germans finally have begun to admit the great damage and terror of their people. They must prepare them for what is to come.

It has been some time since Goering promised the Germans an invincible defense against the axis was doing plenty of tub-thumping over victories in the Mediterranean.

It is quite possible, likely is a better word—that this is only the beginning, and that attacks in the future will be even greater. Broadcasts from London to the conquered peoples of France, Belgium and Holland have urged them to move away from potential targets, such as factories which produce war materials.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Beans

So long as a soldier can eat and think up disparaging names for his equipment the Army will do all right. Food is either "beans," or "chow."

"Chow" may consist of a well cooked meal or if circumstances demand our fighting men have learned to subsist on "Ration K," the concentrated food that all of them carry into battle.

With millions of men and women in the services it will require a lot of War Bond buying on our part to keep them happy.

Corn Requisitioning Draws Much Attention

Grain dealers, farmers and feed producers are watching with interest and doing considerable speculation in connection with the government action Friday in requisitioning stocks of corn in 96 midwestern terminal elevators in a move to secure supplies for processors making corn food, feed and industrial products essential to the war effort.

There is no corn stored in this city that would be affected by the order. In fact there is no corn stored here worthy of mention, because grain elevators have not been receiving corn from the farmers, who have been selling to their neighbors at prices in excess of the price which the grain dealers, under the government limitations, could pay.

For several months there has been a dwindling supply of ground feed in the market, as feed processors were unable to obtain all of the grain they wished to use, and were restricted in their production.

Belief is expressed here that the requisitioning of the stocks of corn in the 96 terminal elevators will mean a great deal more ground feed for livestock.

Rumors that corn being held in storage on farms might be frozen were not taken seriously by local grain men, who discussed the matter Friday evening. If corn were frozen on farms, it is pointed out, it would halt movement of corn generally and add to the general seriousness of the situation for the time being at least.

A great deal of old corn remains on farms and in most instances farmers are holding it for higher prices.

The new stickers are supposed to be on the windshields of all cars and trucks operated after next Wednesday, but the postal employees entrusted with their sale have decided that the only way to start them moving would be to ration them, like shoes. In other words, business has not been good.

On the Farm

be in the colony house by July, when they will be laying. They are "in the red" now for they are eating a lot of growing mash, but in another month they'll go over on the other side of the ledger, and we'll feel better about keeping them. Did you know that many big business firms in cities operate "in the red" at times? They know that if they keep right on doing their very best, keeping up the quality of their product or service, that in time, they'll get on the right side of the books, in most cases.

You've surely got to "take it" in raising chickens and a lot of other domestic animals on the farm, and even then some will not get out of the "red" and the enterprise, will be closed at a loss. That was our experience with our laying hens this year.

They started out very well and were showing a profit until we put some high producing cockerels with them, late in January that we bought in New Jersey. They had some kind of respiratory infection and we lost one of them, and many of our very best hens, and the production took a "nose dive," and we almost didn't get out of it. We didn't get our normal altitude again, so we sold the flock and we are cleaning out the colony house and getting ready to start again.

CLEANING A COLONY HOUSE

That is a very hard job. We took out all of the nest boxes and equipment and put it out into the sun, which is our very best disinfectant and cleaned the building as good as we could. The next thing we'll do will be to spray it thoroughly with hot lysol and then we'll whitewash it and let air blow through it for a few weeks, and we'll admit all of the sunlight we can. That will make it almost surgically clean, don't you think?

The lot will be plowed and seeded to rye and clover, so as to get rid of any germs that may be in the soil. We'll put a board floor in it too, and about a foot of clean dry sawdust on this floor.

You may wonder why we are putting in this floor. We have a rat problem at our house, and we are going to get the floor up high enough so the dogs and cats can get under it. We had a small flock of white leghorns in a building with a floor like this, last winter, and by keeping about a foot of litter on the floor all the time we kept them comfortable and they showed a profit all winter and even now when some of the best hens are starting to moult, they are still laying well.

CONTINUOUS CROPS OF ALFALFA

"Did you know that it is possible to have a continuous crop of alfalfa from one good seeding, for years and years instead of for four or five years as most folks expect the crop to be profitable now?" That's a question that a very successful farmer and merchant asked me this week.

"No, I didn't," I replied. "I'm in Jap Brutality!

JAPANESE BRUTALITY in the current war reached a new low when a Zero pilot drove his plane at Leut. Samuel S. Logan, 22, of Paolo, Kan., as he parachuted to earth, attempting to kill him with the plane's propeller. On the third run at Logan, floating helplessly to earth, the Jap succeeded in slashing off one of Logan's feet and part of the other with his plane. The U. S. flyer survived and was later rescued. Before driving his plane at Logan, the Jap attempted to kill Logan with the plane's guns. (International) a hurry but give me the details. They are worth waiting for."

Here they are: "Add enough lime to the well drained ground where you expect to raise your crop until you have a Ph of at least 6.5. This may take as much as four or even five tons of lime to the acre to do this, but put it on, and put it on ahead of the plowing, and preferably the fall before you seed the alfalfa."

"Plow the ground just as soon as you can in the spring then cultivate it several times before you sow it, which should be about the time you plant corn."

About a week before you sow, the alfalfa apply at least two tons of lime per acre with a wheat drill, getting it well incorporated with your fine, firm, level seed bed.

"Now sow the crop with a wheat drill or alfalfa seeder using a good acclimated Grimm variety and sowing at the rate of about 15 or 20 pounds per acre, without a nurse crop."

"Be sure to run a disc harrow through the field early every spring and apply a good basic fertilizer, at the rate of 250 to 300 pounds per acre." This man uses a fertilizer that he gets from the Woodville Lime Products Company at Toledo, Ohio; it has a limestone filler that he likes.

There is the story in brief, and it is a practical story too. If you are at all interested in raising alfalfa on your farm, try this in a small way at least and you are sure to be pleased. The man who gave me this cut two crops the first year and could have cut a third, but he thought it might weaken the stand. He got almost two tons to the acre of very good feed that is as good as wheat bran, pound for pound for dairy cows.

been had they not carried the insurance.

Regardless of the ease of shrinkage in yield, those insured can collect up to the extent of the yield provided for in the insurance.

While this will ease the blow to the farmers, it will not make up the loss in wheat which will be badly needed before wheat grows again.

Last year the yield of wheat in Fayette County was so great, and storage facilities were so short, that in addition to storing much wheat in bins on the old fair ground, vast quantities were stored on farms, but this year there will be no storage problem in the county.

Three weeks ago indications were that a surprisingly large wheat yield, considering winter kill, would be the result, but the scab and hot weather have changed the entire picture, according to grain dealers and many farmers.

Cattle receipts today totaled only 800 head, against advance estimates of 1,000. Livestock men explained that receipts usually taper off toward the weekend but 800 was described as exceptionally light for a Friday. Yesterday's receipts were only 3,500, while Wednesday's totaled 8,500.

Shipments to all principal livestock markets were correspondingly light. Less than 1,000 head were received at each of 10 large centers. The south St. Paul market with receipts of 3,000 was the sole exception.

Virginia MacPherson Is Bride of Richard Frank Ramsey, Seaman 2nd Class

Unique Ceremony Performed in U. S. Medical Center, Bethesda, Maryland, June 19

Mr. and Mrs. O. G. MacPherson, Sr. of Gettysburg, Pa., announce the marriage of their daughter, Virginia to Richard Frank Ramsey, seaman 2nd class, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis M. Ramsey, Washington C. H.

The ceremony, which was scheduled to take place Saturday, June 19, at four o'clock, in St. Columba's Church, Washington, D. C., was solemnized at the United States Medical Center, Bethesda, Md., due to the illness of the bridegroom. Father C. R. Mengers, rector of St. Columba's and Chaplain J. E. Frazee of the Medical Center, officiated in the presence of the immediate families and a few friends.

The room was attractively decorated with flowers for the occasion, by the "Gray Ladies" of the hospital and an improvised altar was erected.

The bride was attired in an ivory gown with matching accessories, and carried a white prayer-book to which was attached a white orchid and lilies of the valley. Her only ornament was a triple strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Fred Prassterink, Jr., Miss Betty MacPherson and Miss Marcia Duhning were the bride's attendants. Mr. Fred Prassterink was the best man and the bride was given away in marriage by her father, Mr. O. G. MacPherson, Sr.

A reception followed the ceremony at the home of Miss Lisa Carlquist and Mrs. Martha Robertson. Father C. R. Mengers was proxy for the groom at the cutting of the wedding cake.

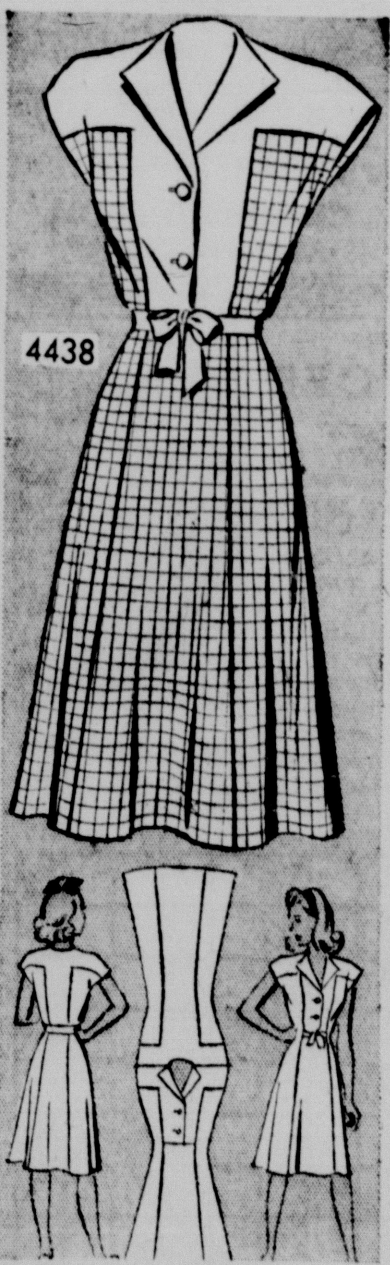

Mrs. Lewis M. Ramsey, mother of the bridegroom was the only one from this city attending the wedding.

Mr. Ramsey was taken ill with a heart condition the day before the scheduled wedding was to have taken place, and will be confined to the hospital for an indefinite rest cure.

Permission for the ceremony was granted by the admiral and captain in charge of the U. S. Medical Center, and arrangements made by Father C. R. Mengers and Chaplain J. E. Frazee.

For the present the bride will reside with her sisters in Washington, D. C. She is employed as long distance operator for the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company and the bridegroom is serving with the United States Coast Guard and is stationed on the Potomac River, Washington, D. C.

No, brother, you were right the first time! Those gams could only belong to one gal, the number one feminine box-office attraction in America—Miss Betty Grable! Betty does a black-face specialty in her latest picture, "Coney Island," the Technicolor hit coming to the Fayette Theatre, to the accompaniment of that hit tune, "Miss Lulu From Louisville," Sunday and Monday and Tuesday.

COMING FEATURES AT THE THEATERS

The Fayette Theatre Sunday, Monday and Tuesday will have the new song and dance steppin'-chase "Coney Island" with Betty Grable and George Montgomery in the leading roles. This technicolor production shows all the colorful, carefree, amusing seekers at New York's number one fun resort. In the supporting cast are romantic Cesar Romero, Charles Winninger and Phil Silvers.

"This is going to be one of my bad days." Of course you know who says this. It's the Great Gildersleeve and a new picture starring this radio comedian is coming to the Fayette Wednesday and Thursday. The title is "Gildersleeve's Bad Day." Gildersleeve's real name is Harold Pery but off the screen as well as on he is the same cigar-smoking, laughable funny man.

All the cast of the famed "Great Gildersleeve" radio show are in the picture.

A double feature is booked for the Fayette for Friday and Saturday. In the number one film, one of Hollywood's best character actors, J. Carroll Nash, will be seen in the new murder mystery "Dr. Renault's Secret." The story is about a scientist who turns an ape into a man. That hard hitting cowboy, William (Hopalong) Cassidy, will be seen in the new Western picture "Border Patrol" as the second half of the double feature.

State Theatre
A twin bill will be shown at the State Theatre Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. The first picture is "The Crime Doctor," a radio serial that has made a thrilling mystery movie. The stars are Warner Baxter and Margaret Lindsay. In the supporting cast are John Littel, Harold Huber and Don Costello. The second feature will be "Redhead From Manhattan" with Lupe Velez and Michael Duane. It is a fast-moving comedy with the usual Velez madness. Lupe plays a double role as a foreign theatrical star that comes to America.

The celebrated "Yankee Doodle Dandy" will be at the State next Wednesday and Thursday. The star is James Cagney and many think his performance is the best of his movie career. The story brings to the screen the life story of George M. Cohan, America's greatest song writer and the author of the greatest war song ever written, "Over There."

Friday and Saturday Tim Holt will be shown in one of his dashing Western pictures, "Dude Cowboy," at the State. Also Chapter 11 of "The Perils of the Royal Mounted" and a cartoon will be shown.

Palace Theatre
A new Michael Shayne murder mystery will be shown at the Palace Theatre Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, as the first feature of the double bill. Lloyd Nolan plays the part of Michael Shane, "Just Off Broadway" is the title. Opposite Nolan is pretty Marjorie Weaver. This private detective as a juror solves a case in a case. The second half of the double bill is "Song of Texas," with the king of cowboys, Roy Rogers, in a new Western musical filled with plenty of real cowboy action.

One of the nation's most beautiful strip tease artists, Margie Hart, will be seen in the Wednesday and Thursday feature at the Palace, "Lure of the Island." Margie was once called "the poor man's Garbo" by Walter Winchell. This show is filled with exciting jungle adventure and love. The feature Friday and Saturday at the Palace is "Silver Skates" with Kenny Baker one of America's best singers of popular songs and plenty of action and skating on ice.

"Wild Bill" Elliott and Gabby Hays will be shown in the new cowboy picture "Man From Thunder River."

Outstanding Rookie Pitcher Also Hard Luck Champion

By JUDSON BAILEY (By the Associated Press)

There are managers and players in the American League who will tell you the outstanding rookie pitcher in the junior circuit this season is Charley Wensloff of the New York Yankees. This may be open to debate, but no one will question his right to be called the unluckiest.

Wensloff, called the "Iron Man" of the Yankees' Kansas City farm last season, has received little of the publicity that has centered on the Athletics' Jesse Flores, the Senators' Milo Candini, the Tigers' Stubby Overmire and other newcomers.

Yet he has pitched a brand of ball that might well have earned him an undefeated rating instead of his present record of four won and the same number lost.

He has been a starting pitcher for New York ever since Manager Joe McCarthy looked him over in spring training.

But what has happened to him in his nine starts has been terrific. He was beaten by Washington in his first outing 4-1 although he pitched seven-hit ball. His next loss was to the Chicago White Sox when Lee (Buck) Ross pitched a one-hitter. His third was to the St. Louis Browns 3-2, with all three St. Louis runs scoring through four Yankee errors in a ten-inning game. His fourth was last Sunday when he had a streak of wildness against Washington and was banished from the game for disputing an umpire's decision on balls and strikes.

But the climax came in a twilight game at Boston last night which resulted in a 2-2 tie in 11 innings after darkness forced a halt.

Wensloff pitched four-hit ball, fanned seven, and might have won except for one of the rarest happenings in major league baseball—a player batted out of turn.

Joe Gordon, the stellar second baseman, who has been doing everything wrong ever since the last World Series, batted in the wrong place in the first turn at the plate, but no scoring was involved and if the Red Sox noticed it they said nothing. But on his second turn he slammed a drive against the fence that brought a tally home.

Then Manager Joe Cronin of the Sox rushed out to the umpire and pointed out that Gordon had hit out of turn, nullifying the run. Gordon made an attempt to redeem himself by hitting his seventh home run of the season to tie the score in the ninth, but it turned out to be just another victory Wensloff should have had and missed.

The Senators gave ground to the Yankees, however, by dropping a 5-2 decision to the Philadelphia Athletics.

Cleveland beat the Chicago White Sox 6-2 and the St. Louis Browns bumped the Detroit Tigers 6-3.

In the National League both the St. Louis Cardinals and the Brooklyn Dodgers were beaten. The world champions and present National League leaders were shut out 6-0 by the Chicago Cubs and the Dodgers were waylaid by the Philadelphia Phillies, 8-2.

The Boston Braves beat the New York Giants 5-3.

The Pittsburgh-Cincinnati game was postponed.

Scoffing Turned To Praise As Doctor S Wins 3 In Row

The horse in which nobody but his owner had faith has turned out to be the sensation of the more than a score of trotters and pacers that trained here this spring.

Doctor S, a chunky dark brown son of the famous Single G, surged down the stretch to win all three dashes of the 224 pace at Marion Thursday night to vindicate his owner, Elmer Junk, and justify the faith he had in him in spite of the scoffing by nearly every horseman at the Fairgrounds except Virgil Willis, who had him in training.

Not only did Doctor S win all three dashes Friday night but he ran up his 1943 score to six victories in eight starts. Last year he was admittedly only mediocre. He won only two heats all season and had a habit of quitting in the stretch. Watching his sensational speed in going away at the start, his owner, who races horses more for the sport than the purse, insisted he was interfering and started trying different boots until, with patience and perseverance, he got him to go the full mile without backing up. He pointed out too that Single G horses were not inclined to reach their best gait and speed until after they were four or five years old—and Doctor S is now a five-year-old.

Junk has staked his pacer at the Fayette County Fair but whether he will have a fling at the North Randall meeting has not been decided. The fact that Doctor S paced the mile at Marion Friday night in 2:10 encouraged him considerably, since horsemen express the belief that 2:10 on the Marion track would mean he could go in 2:06 or 2:07 on the track here, considered one of the best and fastest half-mile ovals in this part of the country.

Doctor S was the only horse from here racing Friday night.

SARATOGA'S RUNNING RACES TRANSPLANTED TO BELMONT

NEW YORK.—They've transplanted Saratoga's racing meeting to Belmont Park but the powers that be will not be able to transplant the natural surroundings of the upstate track.

While Belmont rivals the Spa in beauty and atmosphere, racing men always rated the monthlong meeting at Saratoga as the nation's No. 1 thoroughbred session.

It took a second World War to curtail Saratoga's activities which, oddly enough, began August 2, 1864, during the Civil War and ran continuously during the subsequent 78 years save for 1911 when all the New York tracks were closed.

Saratoga, 40 miles from Albany, seats 7,000 as compared with Belmont's accommodations for 17,500, but the former's seating has never been questioned due to the fact that not everyone can afford the luxuries of Saratoga. Belmont is 20 miles from this big city and the transplanted meet—it will run for 30 days from July 26 to August 28—will benefit no end by the lifting of the office of defense transportation ban against special railroad trains using the Belmont spur.

Indications are that the big

Central Wins First Round League Title

The first round of the Washington C. H. grade school league is over and the Central School team is the champion.

The game played Friday against the Rose Avenue team completely removed all barriers to the title since the Rose Avenues were tied with the Central boys until this game. The final score was 11 to 7.

Orr, Craig and Denton of the Central team and Wilson brought in the most runs in the game. Orr was on the mound for Central and Mann for Rose Avenue.

The second round in the grade school league will start Monday and the champion of this round will play the Central team in a play off game.

ANNOUNCEMENT

IN MEMORIAM
In sad but loving memory of my dear husband and father, Lewis W. Wickline, who passed away two years ago, June 27, 1941.
He did not fail to do his best.
His loving heart had ceased to beat; Before I knew it, he was gone.
He did not fail to do his best.
His heart was true and tender.
He worked hard for those he left.
And ever will be remembered.
MILDRED, LEWIS JUNIOR,
MARY CATHERINE WICKLINE.

LIGHTNING HITS 2 FARM HOMES CAUSING FIRES

Firemen Called from This City Save Residences Near Washington C. H.

Two farm homes near this city were set on fire by lightning during a heavy storm about 4:20 Friday afternoon, and firemen who were called to one of the houses had completed their work and were starting back to the engine house when called to look after the second fire, and extinguished it.

Fire Chief George Hall had a narrow escape from serious injury at one of the houses, and escaped with painful bruises.

Called to the Carroll Halliday home on the Jeffersonville road a mile north of this city, firemen found that lightning had run in on utility wires and ignited fixtures in one of the rooms.

Curtains, window shades, window casings, furniture and rug suffered from the flames, but buckets of water were used in extinguishing the fire after it had caused considerable damage in the room.

The firemen, with the pumper, had just started back to town when they were intercepted and notified that M. J. Whitfield's residence, formerly the Welty home, a mile further up the Jeffersonville road, was on fire as a result of being struck by lightning.

The firemen hurried to the Whitfield home, accompanied by the city workmen with the auxiliary pumper, and by exceptional good work the house was saved after most of the roof had been burned off.

While fighting fire from the inside Fire Chief Hall was caught by a part of the falling roof, and a few moments later part of the ceiling gave way and he fell partly through. However he succeeded in extricating himself without falling into the room below, and sustained painful bruises about the body and one leg.

The booster line was used effectively in extinguishing the fire.

During the same storm lightning struck a "high line" tower of the Dayton Power and Light Company on the Dayton road and put the main line out of commission until repairs could be made, but the auxiliary line carried the service without serious interruption.

Other damage was caused to power lines at various places, and kept the repair crews busy for sometime. In this city, service was interrupted momentarily two or three times.

THOUSANDS FLEE RUHR WHILE ALLIED BOMBERS INTENSIFY AIR ASSAULT

day's attack on northwest Germany.

American fliers described yesterday's opposition by Nazi fighter planes as terrific, estimating that nearly 200 Focke-Wulfs and Messerschmitts pressed home their attacks with suicidal fury. U. S. planes from a single base shot down 24 of the enemy.

As dazed and terror-stricken refugees streamed out of the Ruhr by the hundreds of thousands, Nazi Propaganda Minister Goebbels furiously assailed Americans as "cultural vandals and military barbarians."

A London military observer declared the campaign to neutralize the Ruhr's vital war foundries was now approaching completion and estimated that nearly 30,000 tons of bombs had been cascaded upon the once teeming valley in the last three and one-half months.

In that period, more than 500 Allied bombers have been lost and approximately 3,000 air personnel killed or captured.

Are you fighting mad about this war? Does it mean anything to you personally? Then dig down and buy more and more War Bonds.

DO YOU WANT AN ESSENTIAL OCCUPATION WITH A POST-WAR FUTURE?

We need a number of men for permanent positions as "mechanical tabulating equipment mechanics"—officially defined by Selective Service headquarters as an essential occupation.

WE are a large, well-established manufacturer of office machines and equipment. Our entire production is going to war manufacturers and government bureaus. We urgently need men who are mechanically minded—not necessarily with mechanical experience—to keep these essential office machines operating at top speed in war plants and government offices. We teach you everything you need to know about the machines, and we pay you a salary while you are learning. The positions are permanent, with excellent opportunities for advancement.

YOU are a man with a knack for mechanical work, even though you may not be using that knack at present. You are a high-school graduate and U. S. citizen. The armed forces have passed you by, and will continue to do so. You are not doing war work now. You are ambitious, loyal, a good worker, eager to get ahead.

YOU AND WE should get together. Write us a brief confidential letter, telling us about yourself. Give us also your age and phone number. Write today if possible.

GIRL IS BADLY INJURED BY HIT SKIP OPERATOR

Officers Searching for Driver Who Fleed from Scene

Officers are seeking the driver of an automobile who, at 12:30 A. M. Saturday, struck and seriously injured Miss Agnes Wagner, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Wagner, Elm Street, as she was riding her bicycle home from the API plant near the factory on the Chillicothe road, and failed to stop.

Miss Wagner is now in Mt. Carmel Hospital, suffering from a possible skull fracture; right arm broken just above the elbow, severe cuts about the head, and other injuries. She was unconscious for some time after being struck.

She was taken in the Klever ambulance to Dr. N. M. Reiff's office, where first aid was given and she was then removed to the hospital.

Miss Wagner was riding on the east side of the highway when the car struck her from the rear, crushing the rear wheel of her bicycle and hurling her some distance. She was unconscious when persons who were near at the time, reached her, and did not regain consciousness until later in the night.

The accident occurred between the API plant and Doc's Drive Inn restaurant.

While police and Sheriff W. H. Icenhower have comparatively little to work on, they are following clues that may lead to the arrest of the driver of the car.

PRACTICAL TRAINING TAKEN BY SOLDIER

Pfc. Ernest Mitman Highest In Platoon in Exam

A Washington C. H. boy who has not been home since he left here to enter the army December 8, 1942, today had something to tell his parents and friends about when he comes back, and a trade to which he can turn when the war is over.

Pfc. Ernest Mitman entered the service from Springfield with a flair for mechanics that has now convinced army officers that they made no mistake when they let him continue in the work for which he had expressed a preference. After eight weeks of training at the Midwest Motive Trades Institute at Bloomington, Ill., he was awarded not only a diploma but also a letter of recommendation for having made the highest grade in his platoon.

Pfc. Mitman was inducted at Ft. Benjamin Harrison, Indianapolis, Ind., and was transferred to Camp Lee, Va., for his basic training while attending a technical school. He was sent to Bloomington for advanced training last March 27 and on June 5 was transferred to Camp Ellis, Ill., where he was assigned to a headquarters battalion.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Mitman, 316 West Elm Street, expect to see him in uniform for the first time when he comes back, possibly within a month.

FRIDAY HOTTEST DAY OF SEASON; BREAK OCCURS

Temperature of 96 Drops Suddenly Following Heavy Rains

Friday displaced Thursday as the hottest day of the season to date, with an official temperature of 96 as the peak for the afternoon, and the day took its place among the hottest June days on record here.

A year ago 78 and 54 were the extremes for the same day.

During this month the first 25 days had an average peak temperature of 88 1-2 degrees, compared with 77 1-2 for the same time last year, so that the peak this June has been 11 degrees daily average above that of last year, Chalmers Burns, U. S. Weather Observer said Saturday.

The intense heat of Friday was broken late in the afternoon by a series of electrical storms which in some areas assumed almost cloudburst proportions, particularly in the southwestern part of the county.

In this city only .08 inches of rain fell during the evening.

In part of the storm's path water was standing in fields for hours after the rain had ceased.

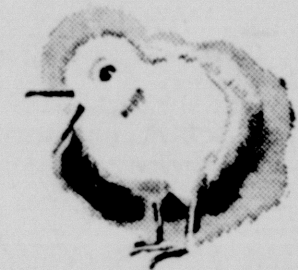

Two farm homes, that of Carroll Halliday and also the M. J. Whitfield homes, north of town, were set afire by lightning.
